Town Hall #3

Applying Innovation Frameworks to Our New Reality with Tim Fish

Participation and Interaction

The raise hand feature if we ask a question and need a quick response or if you need us to pause for a minute.

The chat is a backchannel for attendees to use for sharing links and resources that everyone on the call might benefit from having/seeing.

The Q&A feature for webinars allows attendees to ask questions during the webinar and for the Folio team to answer their questions.

If you didn't already, please introduce yourself in the chat to panelists and attendees :

The Folio Community:

- We exist to facilitate professional learning conversations
- We draw from the collective wisdom of the our community of leaders to strengthen school culture around professional learning and conversation

A Bit of Housekeeping:

- We will send a follow-up email with…
  - A copy of the recording
  - A copy of the slide deck
  - A summary document with notes and comments from the “backchannel”/Zoom chat

Roles

- Participants
  - Share experience & expertise (We each come with a lot!)
  - Ask questions
  - Challenge assumptions
  - Transfer ideas to your own context
  - See this Town Hall as a “first step”

- Tim Fish and Meredith Ford
  - Provide promising research to inform and transform your current thinking about distant learning
  - Present options/solutions
  - Facilitate idea sharing

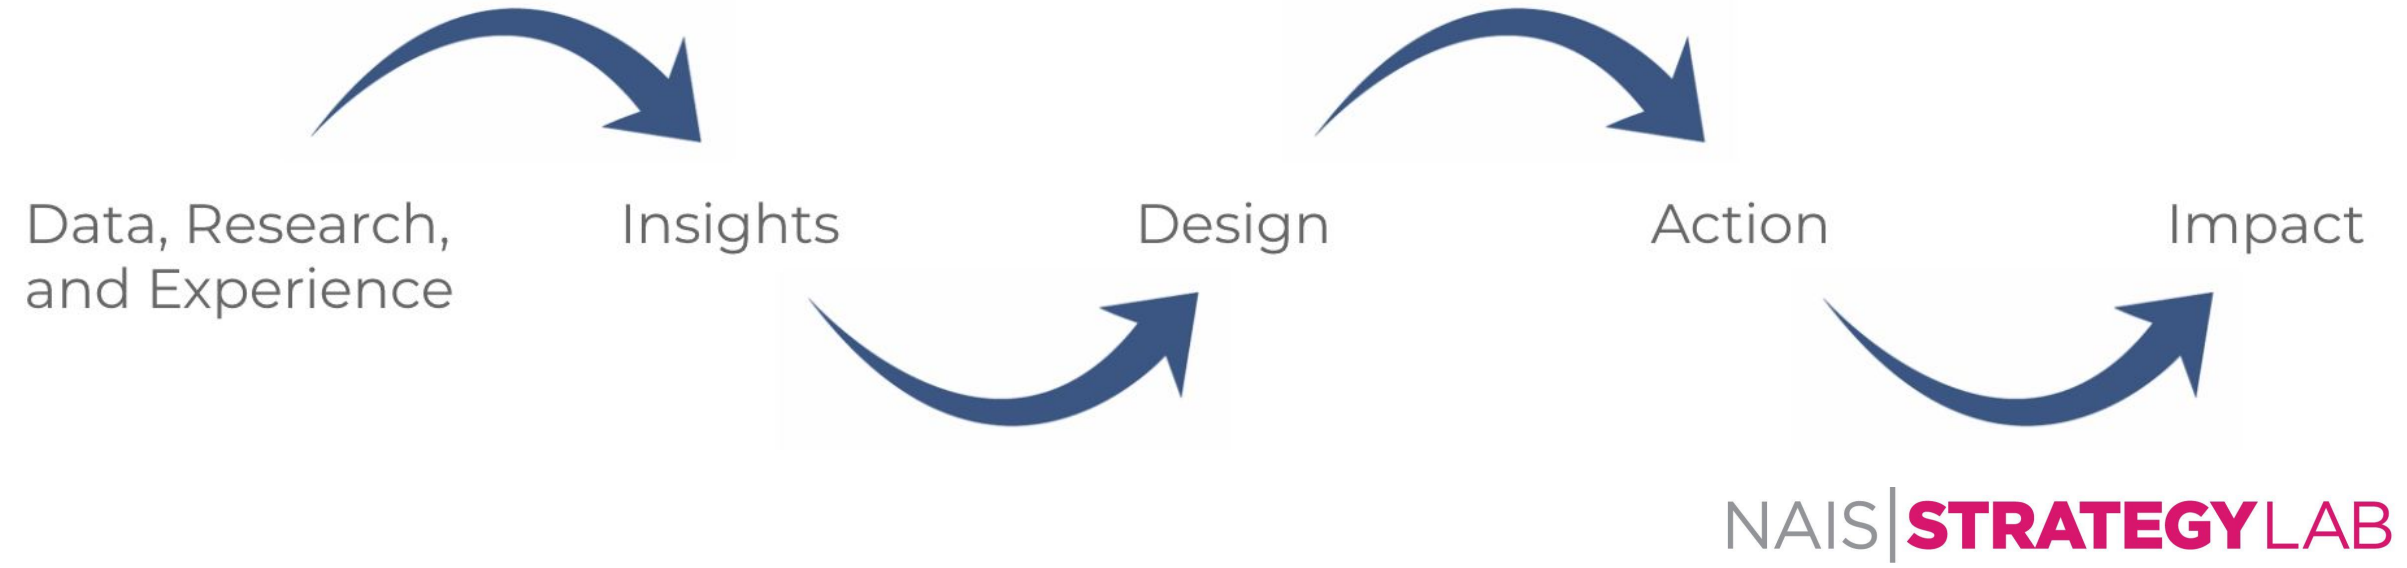
Chief Innovation Officer, NAIS



Learning Objectives: After participating in this Town Hall I will . . .

- leverage at least one innovation framework to support continuous improvement during the next few months.*
- pass my learning on to least ONE other person
- make some new friends

Feedback from the field…

- Inspiration, Energy, Joy
- Constraints unleash creativity
- Challenges
  - Assessment
  - Synchronous vs. Asynchronous
  - Taking care of the entire community

six things thoughtful leaders do they observe.
they explore.
they reflect.
they learn.
they consider others.
they take action.
